Eagle Manufacturing Program Description

Eagle Manufacturing is a student-run business at Brown County High School. Students in Eagle Manufacturing are considered student-employees and can hold various positions within the business. To be a member of Eagle Manufacturing in Business Management and Administration, students are required to take the Principles of Business Management course outlined above. Once that course has been taken and passed, students will have to complete an application with a resume, participate in an interview, and be “hired” into a position within Eagle Manufacturing. The second course (Management Fundamentals) and the third course (Accounting Fundamentals) in the program of study are both courses in which the student will be holding a position and participating in Eagle Manufacturing.
